

r/climateskeptics

Power-Hungry Data Centers Are Gobbling Up Texas Because of AI - Bloomberg

Posted by u/Adventurous_Motor129 • 0 points • 2 comments

Texas already has ample renewable power & real estate. Yet AI, bitcoin mining, & data centers will compound electricity shortages & along with solar farms, hog up land near cities.

Need nuclear & natural gas.

Comments

u/StedeBonnet1 • 1 points • 2024-07-31 15:33 UTC

They need to come to WV. We still burn coal and power is cheap. Average cost for power in WV is $.1157 per kwh. Industrial rates are $.07 per KWH

u/TheF anumMenace • 1 points • 2024-07-31 15:33 UTC

Maybe companies should be forced to erase all the data they've snuck from people in the past 15 years