

Why do so many Anti's think that ai is killing the environment?

I keep hearing this same argument, but I've yet to see a single convincing argument proving this.

"AI consumes a lot of water" you act like that used water is causing shortages in grocery stores.

"AI consumes a lot of electricity" so does almost everything. Cryptocurrency mining rigs also consume a lot of electricity but I've yet to see anyone complain about that being harmful for the environment.

"AI requires new datacenters to be built and uses a lot of GPU's" ok??? Boo hoo, there aren't enough gpu's in stock. So what?

I am seriously at a loss as to what Anti's find to be so horrible about AI consuming these resources.

The only reasonable explanation is that a person with swearing tourette's is leading anti-AI charge.

\- What do you think AI is doing to the environment?

\- RAPE, FUCK, KILL, SHIT, POOP, SLOP, %$!@#.

It's crazy that you haven't seen that because it's an incredibly common argument.
