Their so called source of AI drinking up too much water is their own comment. Why are they like this?

Even if data centers cool by directly running water off the main water mains for the city, it's not like the warm water that comes out of the cooling loop is contaminated. It's just water, put it back into the city water supply or cool it and recycle.

Waitwaitwaitwait... Okay, even if so... Do they know how the cycle of water even works...?

I'm going to assume that no, they do not. This is largely because of my distinct lack of faith in our present day education system though, so who knows, maybe I'm just biased.

Nah, I agree. We have shitty education system...

The last thing I want to hear from antis is accusations of parroting what others say because that is literally what antis do ad nauseam. The projection is so strong that you could project it onto the moon.

"Ai Slop! Ai Slop! Ai art not real art!!!"

u/spektre • 2 points • 2025-06-10 05:56 UTC

Did you know AI can't even do hands properly? And it's stealing all the jobs from real artists too.

(AI is only image generation.)

u/toolazytomakeaname22 • 3 points • 2025-06-10 06:01 UTC

And did you know it burns 10000 gallons of water from generating one image?

The last person I knew who did this was literally a sociopath 😞

Nice max0r reference

While we can attack with arxiv papers, they make a mediocre table that doesn't even compare to a research project they ask you to do in high school, I'm not even saying that I'm from university.

What do they think Luddite means?

u/Ok_Nail_1915 • 24 points • 2025-06-10 01:44 UTC

Also they just can't have debate without hurling insults, can they? Not beating the mental illness allegations.

u/lum1nya • 4 points • 2025-06-10 05:05 UTC

I unfortunately am not beating those allegations either 😞
