

Hot take: ai slop is horrible and bad for the environment and takes away from real artists, but I don't care and will use it anyway

I see these people bickering and babbling about whether Ai is good or bad, and I'm on the side that it is bad. However, I don't really give a shit and use Ai anyway. I don't really care about artists, as they need to get a real job. As for the environment, it's just a bunch of leaves, who cares. Honestly, you are all the yelling soyjacks and I am the stoic giga chad.

Unfathomably based take. I too believe we should destroy the entire environment, and I am anti-employment. (Not anti-work, there's a difference in that I believe people should lose their jobs due to smaller markets, not due to not needing a job.)

While we're at it, I also think movies are too enjoyable, let's make worse films.

Exactly. Art isnt a real job, artists need to put into real jobs like working in the mines
