Anti's argue about the power usage of AI. I suggest to use AI to lower the power bill and speed up rendering . They still go ape-shit acting like AI has cooties.

These people are literally self-owning themselves. Its like the jokes write themselves! Can you all at least pretend to be consistent on your arguments instead of treating AI has cooties?

Fussing about power usage is such a dumb thing to do. We're going to burn through all fossil fuels regardless. Who cares if we burn them quicker or slower?
