

Billie Eilish posting misinformation about AI water usage. It's 10mL per query (Medium) not an entire bottle.

“academic research and independent studies suggest the real number could be closer to 10 milliliters per query, factoring in the full lifecycle of data center cooling and energy production.”

Have these people never heard of the water cycle?

I hope she know how much water is used during one minute of her running all her concert equipment, tour bus/plane, or all the trucks that transport her equipment cross country. It might just be a little more than a bottle. Might be closer to a kiddie pool

This sub is not for inciting debate. Please move your comment to aiwars for that.

The equivalent of pouring out 10mL of (very likely non-potable) water... into a lake. 🤖

I'm a Billie Eilish stan and I love her to death that I make a lot of AI art of her to express my love for her. However, I know that she's no angel and has said some stupid things when she was a teenager and her home school social skills really do show at times. I know that she's in full control of her Instagram as opposed to her X or Facebook which are handled by her social media team. I think she just saw that Reel and in a knee jerk reaction was like "I have to use my influence to share this" in a moment of passion with realizing because the numbers look scary without the full picture and are just incorrect.

Yeah, let put my ex-vegan hat and blast some numbers:

- * 1 kg of cheese uses 5605 liters of water;
- * 1 kg of beef? 2714 liters of water;
- * 1 kg of apples: 180 liters;
- * 1 kg of potato? 59 liters.

So, will the pencil warrior renounce cheese and beef?! Will they only eat potatoes and only on weekend apples?

Funny how it's always stars travelling on private jets who's gaslighting about climate, like they'd care for one bit...
