

Trump and tech billionaires pledge $billions to AI but energy and resources already under pressure

Posted by u/luvlanguage • 0 points • 598 comments

President Trump has been very clear on his decisions to remove rules and open the way for faster AI growth

For President Trump and for many in his team, less restriction means more business, more money and more power for the United States. But when the rules are removed, the companies run faster without thinking about how much energy is burned, how much water is used and how much waste is created in our environment.

World leaders need to be responsible, if people do not question it today, the hidden costs will eventually show up tomorrow in energy bills, empty rivers, polluted land and in communities left to carry the burden

Comments

u/Kensi99 • 1 points • 2025-09-10 15:05 UTC

All these comments, and every single one of you have iPhones, computers, ChatGPT, etc...

u/metricrules • 1 points • 2025-09-09 11:31 UTC

They literally made up the numbers on the spot, Zuck was caught on a hot mic. They're just doing enough to placate him until the next election (if it happens)

u/Arthur_Digby_Sellers • 1 points • 2025-09-08 19:45 UTC

One of the most humble and benevolent billionaires, the Oracle of Omaha, has been conspicuously absent from these events since day 1...

u/Belnord • 2 points • 2025-09-08 15:37 UTC

Spineless lackeys all waiting for trump to fall because they will not let him up

u/ldssggrdssgds • 2 points • 2025-09-08 14:15 UTC

"Pledge" means say something spectacular but unattainable to make orange mango "look good"

u/luvlanguage • 1 points • 2025-09-08 14:17 UTC

Basically yes, and so it's not guaranteed

u/lcy_Struggle_7291 • 2 points • 2025-09-08 03:32 UTC

pledges are not guaranteed. this is all corporate bullshit .promises made and never fulfilled. reminds me of some orange 🍊 dickless scammer meanwhile the average residential ratepayer is going to shell out 50% more of their hard earned money to subsidize these multi billion dollar projects that use untold public resources...fresh water 💧 being one of the largest ...while generating enormous profits for the few . call out this scam for what it is and demand these corporations pay for their own infrastructure !

u/luvlanguage • 1 points • 2025-09-08 14:22 UTC

I have a hunch, maybe they have an energy investment and if they talk like this, the energy stocks may go up so the can profit from that instead because a pledge is definitely not guaranteed

u/memeaggdon • 2 points • 2025-09-07 23:32 UTC

All these people , including the president , sitting around trying to figure out how much money they can suck out of the American taxpayer.

u/Ad-Award • 2 points • 2025-09-07 22:46 UTC

I hope I live long enough to hear ~sad things~ I mean "happy things" about them.

u/luvlanguage • 1 points • 2025-09-08 14:30 UTC

u/zayahroman24 • 2 points • 2025-09-07 22:08 UTC

Garbage losers