

r/TrueAnon

[MorePerfectUnion] BlackRock is trying to buy 'Minnesota Power' so they can profit off the soaring electricity demand from AI data centers

Posted by u/CosmicLars • • 0 points • 3 comments

Appearently there are [libbed up environmentalists] (<https://minnesotareformer.com/2025/08/19/blackrocks-bid-for-minnesota-power-worries-consumer-advocates/>) in support of this because the deep pockets of BlackRock are "the only way to reach the goal of making Minnesota Power 100% Green by 2040" 🙄

Comments

u/WalkerMidwestRanger • 1 points • 2025-09-20 02:38 UTC

I'm curious what the old man dog walk contingent will say or if they're aware.

u/Far_Mine982 • 4 points • 2025-09-19 18:11 UTC

Almost like capitalism breeds monopolistic control and pushes for lack of regulation to break society as much as possible. Almost like...regulation, forcing transparency, and breaking up monopolies is needed if you want to run a steady capitalist venture. Who Knew!

u/CompetitiveVirus9087 • 11 points • 2025-09-19 17:11 UTC

Um ackshully if you don't support corporate takeover of basic infrastructure you are just a NIMBY