

I don't hate AI art because its harmful to the environment or steals art, I hate it because of politics

Posted by u/wowsuchredditXDD • 0 points • 244 comments

Hi there, has been a while since i last spoke, (clankerbot9000 if ur reading this reply with a orc) but i have to talk about the real reason why i don't like AI.

Im generally neutral (CENTRIST SUPREMACY) but one thing that pissed me off is the usage of AI to generate propaganda. AI art is generally alright for me, but HOOOLYYY there so many instances of AI made comics essentially supporting homophobia, transphobia, political violence. And some I cant even fucking decipher when i look at them,

Can we just please get politics out of AI?

Comments

u/Mcbeard82 • 1 points • 2026-03-14 23:52 UTC

Getting politics out of anything let alone the ability to create a digital representation you can post whoever you can will be the last thing to ask to keep politics out of. Asking for the specific halt to politics in AI is a step towards the restriction of self expression and would work towards the infringement of free speech. If it's not illegal then you are free to make whatever you want with whatever resources you choose to use. However if someone is creating anything calling for the death of certain people or groups that is illegal and should be reported. That being said someone small minded attempt to spread the degrading speech of certain groups in our society can only be strengthened by one's own life experience. The majority of our population are not racist, homophobic or transphobic and our stance on the subject would most likely only be tainted in the specific circumstances of individuals and would stay on that individual in context as the exception lit the rule as far as groups of people are thought of. Any and all groups of people in our societies do and have done terrible things to others that doesn't mean those groups as a whole are bad and restricting the voice of those who hate as a whole will publicize their beliefs and lead to the eventual dissolution of their causes. If everyone made the attempt to see each other as good people and not take every instance the can as a personal attack and implying hate or intent where simply ignorance can be applied then we can get along as a diverse populous with some disagreements here and there rather than the sentiment the oppositions needs to be eradicated without even the attempt to find common ground or learn the actual reasoning and positions people hold in certain aspects of of society. And hat being said the subset of people who have undergone hormone replacement therapy and or actually surgical procedure in attempt to modify their physicality as a human being changing the chemical composition of their bodily systems especially with testosterone and estrogen it is creating an growing number of imbalanced chemical and drug dependent people who are being show. Less and less tolerance the more they demand they are validated to people previously had no thought on the situation and are now forced under sometimes the penalty of imprisonment and hate speech permanently attached to them for the rest of their life. If you want people to to stop voicing how they feel in their particular life circumstances even if it revolves around politics but extending to the dislike or hatred of a groups of people as a whole then the groups who have demanded every capitulate to their demands should also be silenced in their attempts at pushing their quite literal sexual preferences to everyone who either doesn't car or want to hear about it and the forceful brainwashing being inflicted on our youth based on the parents need to be in a social group for clout being gained through gender reassignment and hormone replacement drugs of boys and girls who may or may not have dressed or played with the guys if the opposite sex and is now labeled as a trans child never knowing what it was or even cared about the differentiation between buy and girl other than knowing boys and girls look different . You don't want people to hate trans people then the trans community needs to change how they go about ruining lives that are not their own. Racists are fueled by direct experience with races that have directly impacted their lives negatively changing how children are raised Will end racism init entirety, let them speak let them show who they are listen to them so you know who to avoid otherwise you could find yourself in bad places with bad people because book e knew who they weee.

u/PalidiaBall • 1 points • 2026-03-02 15:45 UTC

back in my day few people could make weird art because you needed talent! now the internet is flooded with it and i cant do anything :wheelchair_jevil:

u/Mcbeard82 • 1 points • 2026-03-15 00:00 UTC

There's plenty you can do, you can type that comment the. You have the ability to to do plenty on the internet. If the internet is flooded with crap AI learn how to make good useful AI and sell your services to companies in need of imagery with ads or even conceptual visualizations for product development. Learning how to create with AI can be brainless when utilized by spamming companies but it can also be used by those with less resources available to create images or videos with an ap or website fro their mobile device rather than a PC costing 10-20,000$ on the low end for reasonable CGI rendering. Accessibility and innovation are the products of necessity and determination. With all things you get two of three choices

Fast and good nit cheap

Cheap and fast not good

Good and cheap not fast Cheap AI is shit but spend a few dollars with the right creator and AI can be a loss of words in quality. But it's a tool even if you can't get to the final product it can help you flesh out ideas quickly with the correct wording of the prompts. Then take and expand on the concept using g another imaging software such as photoshop.

u/wowsuchredditXDD • 1 points • 2026-03-05 05:20 UTC

Exaxtly what i was tryna say

u/MiniZombieBoi • 1 points • 2026-03-01 00:50 UTC

AI in 2020: What if there was a website you could talk to?

AI in 2026: Big brother is watching and ICE will kill you u/Whispers_of_Eggplant • 1 points • 2026-02-28 22:49 UTC

As a non binary person, I must admit the first image is pretty funny in an ironic way

u/StinkChair • 1 points • 2026-02-27 14:47 UTC

It's true that the debate has certainly taken a political swing. It certainly feels right wing to be on the pro side. And only the right seems to be using it to manufacture consent against their perceived enemies.

u/UnexpendablePrawn282 • 1 points • 2026-02-27 14:06 UTC

Boy would you despise photoshop..

u/Character-Pension-12 • 1 points • 2026-02-27 10:59 UTC

You hate it because of politics not because its destroying the world.. news flash environment is politics !
And you should hate both equally if it wasnt

u/Chaghatai • 1 points • 2026-02-27 10:47 UTC

Trying to remain neutral is a fool's errand because the two "sides" are not the same

In the United States, supposed neutrality basically supports right-wing interests